THE MUSIC FESTIVAL

Given Yesterday By the Mozart Singing Society

WAS AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS.

Nearly Two Thousand People Attended the Affair, Which Lasted During the Afternoon and Evening—The Vocal Features Were Very Good. The Scene During the Evening.

One of the most enjoyable of the outdoor events that have taken place at Mozart Park, on the South Side, was the May Music Festival undertaken by the Mozart Singing Society, and which came off yesterday afternoon and evening. The day was all that could be desired—fair and warm, but not sultry. At six o'clock last evening fifteen hundred people had been admitted through the park entrance at the foot of the incline and hundreds more were attracted to the beautiful scene last night.

The first number on the programme was the parade of the Mozart Singing Society, accompanied by members of the Beethoven, about one hundred strong, headed by the Meister band. The route of the procession was from Market and Tenth streets, down Market, over the creek, and to Forty-third street, and to the foot of the incline. The parade attracted considerable attention, and favorable comment.

The programme during the afternoon consisted of selections by the Meister band, interspersed with vocal music by the chorus, of the Mozart society, assisted by several singers from the Beethoven and Arion societies. The chorus consisted of fifty voices, and the difficult numbers were carried through without a hitch. One of the numbers was "Dichtergrab am Rhein" which is to be sung in chorus at the Toledo Saengerfest this summer. Prof. H. M. Schockey acted as leader and conductor of the chorus, and to his efforts were due considerable of the finish of the performance.

The afternoon was pleasantly passed away, many seeking the bowing alleys, while others preferred the cool breeze under the trees on the hilltops. William Knook carried off the prize for the best bowling. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Messrs. Charles Zulauf, chairman, Charles Horstmann, W. H. Schrebe, Charles Rohrig, Conrad Bremer, Valentin Theby, H. Steinman, John Roth and Hermann Bentz.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last evening the electric current was turned on at the plant at the Schmulbach brewery, and instantly the sixty arc lamps blazed up, as if by magic, and turned dusk into a scene of fairy beauty. The promenade by electric light was quite a feature thereafter. Dancing commenced early at the big pavilion, and continued until nearly midnight.

WHAT A PILE OF CHILDREN ARE SPORTING IN NEW SUITS SINCE LAST WEEK.

That OTTO SAMPTER & SIMON purchase was the best deal ever made in Children's Clothes, the biggest, the wisest. We just swept the stock rooms clear as a whistle of EVERY SHORT PANTS SUIT they had. They are not a lot of odd and ends, but regular lines, full and complete in sizes and styles—fresh styles, too, the newest effects, and from makers who are famous for their superior taste and talent. We possessed ourselves of these hundreds of Suits, most as many as all the clothing stores in Wheeling all together have got, unlike any of theirs, and marked the princely qualities at bargain prices. There is as good as any out and out gift in every suit. The whole stock is complete. Dozen different grades have been divided into just three lots.

$2.98, $3.48 AND $5.00.

Either one is a bigger bargain than we have ever before had in our power to offer you. Now, don't hang back waiting for the rush to subside. Too many of you couldn't crowd in here for us to serve promptly. Besides, now, you'll have the benefit of a full variety to choose from. Mothers of little folks, there is no such thing as embarrassment in our store, we mean as to getting money back. Suppose some one at home finds a fault that you didn't see in the suit you bought here yesterday, last week, or the one you buy this week, bring it back and get your money without a word of explanation or formality.
